CONCORDIA TO HOST NATIONALS

The Canadian Intercollegiate Athletic Union has announced the draw for the 1978 National Soccer Championships. The tournament will be held the weekend of November 10th to the 12th at the Claude Robillard Center.

Action gets underway Friday at 12 noon when Mount Allison plays Victoria. The second and final game of the day has arch-rivals McGill (QUAA Champions) versus the host Concordia University. The winner of the Mt. Allison-Victoria contest meet Laurentian University in one semi-final game Saturday, at 12 noon, while the McGill-Concordia winner will play against Manitoba at 3 p.m. The Championship game is slated for 3 p.m. Sunday, preceded by two consolation games.

At the same time the Q.U.A.A. announced the league's All-Star soccer team, and as expected, the championship McGill Redmen led the way with four All-Stars. Those selected from the downtown University were Walmir Dasilva, Jim Takats, Guarica Nunes and Robert Titney. Concordia and Laval each placed three players; George Bselis, John Burnatowski and Pasquale D'Otolo of Concordia and Curtis Houassi, Gilles Garneau and Mihoub Azouz of Laval. Bishop's John Sigg rounds out the Dream Team while Michel Ritschard of Laval was named "Coach of the Year".
